

First Atomic Test in Series Fired in Nevada

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (UPI)—The U.S. fired the first of possibly its last series of nuclear tests today, a comparatively puny one-kiloton device dangling from a tethered balloon 500 feet over Yucca Flat.

The shot, estimated as less than the equivalent of 1,000 tons of TNT, glowed in the daylight sky at 6:59 a.m. (p.d.t.), but because of its size apparently was not seen beyond Las Vegas, 75 miles south-east of the test site.

THE FLASH LASTED less than a second, and then the cloud boiled up in a ball, rather than the traditional mushroom. Newsman stationed about 10 1/2 miles from ground zero said it "looked like a piece of cotton candy or a ball of yarn sitting up there over the desert."

There was no wind to disperse the cloud immediately as it hovered in the sky with the sun giving it a dull salmon color. A small amount of dust was sucked up from the desert floor, but the steam did not reach the ground. "It was a real little baby," watchers agreed.

THE SHOCK WAVE hit News Nob, the vantage point for witnesses, in about one minute with a low rumble.

The Atomic Energy Commission called the shot "Eddy," for Eddy County, N. M., but newsmen watched the blast quickly dubbed it "Operation Deadline" because the series must end by Oct. 30 when an international ban on nuclear weapons testing goes into effect.

"EDDY" WAS described as a development test designed by the Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory for later incorporation in a small-scale atomic weapon in America's arsenal.

There will be 10 shots in all during the seventh and most concentrated series conducted within the continental United States since 1951.

Five of the tests, according to the AEC, will be exploded underground deep inside a honeycomb-tunnelled area at the north end of the test site, including one huge blast of 20 kilotons (nominal) later this month or in October when the final series ends.

THE AEC SAID the big underground shot would be 12 times the size of one that rocked a Nevada mesa last year and was recorded on seismographs in Alaska. A spokesman added that a 20-kiloton explosion probably would cause a vent or opening between the blast chamber and the earth's surface because of collapsing rock inside.

The international agreement to end nuclear test was reached earlier this year at Geneva, Switzerland. Moscow announced last summer it was abandoning such experiments, but Washington sources called it a propaganda maneuver aimed at the fact that U. S. and British tests already were under way or planned.

Subsequently, both the U. S. and Britain agreed to a year's suspension pending further talks at Geneva on means of detecting such tests.

Conventions to Bring 14,000 Visitors Next Three Months

More than 14,000 convention delegates are expected to use Palm Springs resort facilities during the next three months, it was announced today by Jimmy Cooper, manager of the Palm Springs Chamber of Commerce.

Among some of the early conventions scheduled are the Grocers convention, Oct. 5-9, reserving space for some 2,000 delegates and their wives at hotels throughout the desert area from Palm Springs to Palm Desert, and the Shriners Ceremonial, Oct. 10-12, in which 4,000 members and their wives are scheduled to take part.

THE ANNUAL PALM Springs Trailer Rally and show has been set for the week of Oct. 20 to 27, bringing 2,000 trailerites to the Village. The trailers will be housed at the Polo Grounds, with show and entertainment events set up in the same area.

Smog Alert Predicted Again For Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES — (UPI) — Another siege of choking, eye-irritating smog was expected today for the Los Angeles basin with 90-degree temperatures adding to the discomfort.

The Air Pollution Control District forecast a possible smog alert like the one Thursday which lasted from 11:54 a.m. to 2:22 p.m., a total of 2 hours and 34 tearful minutes.

Harriman Proposes

Harry S. Truman For President

ALBANY, N. Y. — (UPI) — Gov. Averell Harriman said today he was "deadly serious" in proposing Harry S. Truman as the 1960 Democratic candidate for president.

Harriman told a Democratic rally Thursday night the current state political campaigns would lay the groundwork for the "bigger" battle two years from now.

"I NOMINATE for president of the United States in 1960 Harry S. Truman," the New York governor told more than 2,500 cheering Democrats. "He is the man to get us back on the rails."

Truman, smiling and polite, told the rally: "I'm afraid I can't accept the nomination."

"I don't deserve what he (Harriman) says, but I like to hear him say it," Truman said.

THE FORMER president, excluded from the constitutional prohibition against running for more than two terms, will be 76 years old in 1960. Harriman is 66. The governor moved into his endorsement of Truman with a blistering attack on the Eisenhower administration's domestic and foreign policies.

Harriman said Eisenhower's failure to speak out on the Supreme Court's civil rights decisions had prevented "enforcement of the law." He said if Truman were still president "he would have seen to it that the law of the land was enforced."

THE FORMER President spoke after Harriman, who he supported for president in 1956 over Adlai E. Stevenson. He charged the national administration had pursued a "special privilege crusade" to "redistribute the national income in the wrong direction."

He said the administration made national production decline 11 per cent while Russia's was rising 11 per cent.

Truman said investors "are making more money from dividends than all the farmers in the country are making from farming. They have done all this through the steady squeeze, by the tight money policy, in which the powers of public agencies have been used to redistribute the national income in the wrong direction."

Living Cost Dips Slightly In August

First Decline Recorded in Past Two Years

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The cost of living dipped 0.2 of 1 per cent last month, the government reported today. The August drop was the first in two years.

The Labor Department's monthly report said seasonal declines in food prices and small declines in clothing costs outweighed price rises for other basic family goods and services.

THE CONSUMER price index, based on the 947.49 price average slipped from 123.9 in July to 123.7 in August. Though lower than July, the August figure was 2.2 per cent higher than a year ago.

Ewan Clague, commissioner of labor statistics, said the August drop did not herald any continuing drop in living costs. He emphasized that the August drop reflected heavy seasonal marketing of meats, fruits, and vegetables.

"THIS IS NO downward trend," Clague said. "The index is now tending to stabilize."

Clague said food prices probably would decline somewhat further this month and then level off. The report said food prices dropped 0.8 of 1 per cent from July to August as lower prices of fresh fruits and vegetables, meats and poultry more than offset mark-ups for eggs, milk, and restaurant meals.

CLOTHING COSTS slipped 0.1 of 1 per cent, reflecting widespread reductions for men's and boys' sports shirts, men's socks, slacks, shorts and suits, and women's nylon hose.

Transportation costs rose 0.6 of 1 per cent, mainly because of increased prices for used cars and gasoline. Tire prices and auto insurance rates made small advances. Prices of new cars and the cost of auto repairs dipped somewhat.

THE LABOR Department also reported that take-home pay of factory workers held steady from July to August. But the dip in the living costs slightly increased purchasing power.

Despite four consecutive monthly increases in workers' purchasing power, the report said, it was still about 1.5 per cent lower in August than a year ago.

WEATHER

Desert Area Forecast: Generally sunny today and Saturday. Highs today near 100 upper valleys, 110 lower valleys. Probably a little cooler northern deserts Saturday. Locally strong gusty winds northern deserts Saturday afternoons.

Yesterday's high, 108, low, 66.

MATHILDA UDE, 65, wife of Palm Springs restaurant owner Bill Ude, suffered shock but no serious injuries as she lost control of her car and crashed through the rear wall of the garage of the Ude home at 695 Grenfall Road. As pieced together by officers investigating the crash, Mrs. Ude had backed the car out of the garage last evening about 6 p.m. and struck a brick wall in front of the house. Apparently panicked by the minor crash, she threw the car into forward gear and tromped down on the accelerator instead of the brake and crashed through the back of the garage and a garden wall. Damage was estimated at $5,000. Pictured above, police officers Matt Calac and Robert Flavin check the extent of the damage. Mrs. Ude came close to receiving very serious or even fatal injuries when a vertical beam from the wall smashed through the windshield and stopped just an inch or so from the steering wheel. Wall studs went clear through the windshield and front seat on the passenger side of the car. (Desert Sun Photo).

Kiwanis Club To Sponsor AF Band Concert

Palm Springs Kiwanis Club will sponsor a concert by the United States Air Force Band at the Palm Springs High School auditorium on Nov. 8, it was announced today by the Air Force.

The Air Force Band, conducted by Colonel George S. Howard, has scheduled a tour of 43 communities in California, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Nevada and Utah, beginning this month and ending Nov. 11. In each town performances will be sponsored by civic organizations.

The trip will open Sept. 30 in Ogden, Utah, and will include concert stops at the following Southern California cities: Nov. 2 - Arlington, Nov. 3 - San Gabriel, Nov. 4 - Calexico, Nov. 5 - Oceanside, Nov. 6 - San Diego, Nov. 7 - Long Beach, Nov. 8 - Palm Springs, Nov. 9 - Santa Monica, and Nov. 10 - Burbank.

Tanker Smashes Red Speed Marks

SPOKANE — (UPI) — A KC135 tanker plane smashed two Soviet jet transport speed records and set seven additional world's marks in a single flight this week.

The tanker averaged 587.13 miles per hour while carrying a payload of 10,000 kilograms (22,046 lbs.) on a 3,107-mile closed-circuit course between Fairchild Air Force Base here and Hoquiam, Wash., the Air Force announced Thursday night.

Fire Destroys House Last Night; Children Are Blamed

Fire completely destroyed a condemned home at the west edge of the Crossley Tract last night, and blame for the blaze was listed by firemen as "children and matches."

Many desert area residents, who saw the huge blaze leaping high into the night sky, thought it was a fire at the Palm Springs dump until an alarm was sounded, almost an hour after the fire had started, at Cathedral City.

THE CATHEDRAL City branch of the California Division of Forestry, rushing to the scene of the blaze through the Cree Ranch, was suddenly stopped by a deep excavation across the road. Scores of automobiles, following the truck, clogged the road and trapped the fire truck.

At the scene of the fire, volunteer fire fighters arrived — and waited for the truck and the water.

IN THE MEANTIME, in Thousand Palms, CDF foreman Claude Huse and volunteer chief Harold Sloper called in the volunteers and rushed the nine miles to the scene of the fire, and started extinguishing the blaze which had already razed the entire building.

Hundreds of residents watched and many others drove to the scene, and then left so as not to clog the streets of the development.

ALTHOUGH FURNISHED, the home was not being lived in, and had been condemned by the county some five years ago. Value of the home was set by Chief Huse at a "very few hundred dollars." The home was owned by Mrs. Dragana Petrovia of Yucaipa.

U.S. Transport, French Fighter Collide in Air

THIEL, France (UPI) — A U. S. Air Force C-130 transport plane and a French air force jet fighter collided near this village west of Paris today.

At least three persons, all of them Americans, were known dead. Two survivors were believed to have parachuted to safety.

Air Force spokesman said the names of the dead would not be announced until their next of kin were informed.

The C-130, which was on a routine flight from Evreux Air Base in France to Spangdahlem, Germany, was carrying a crew of five and one passenger. The Mystere jet had only its French pilot aboard.

Offer Given During Talks In Warsaw

Nationalists Land More Supplies At Quemoy Today

LONDON (UPI) — Communist China has offered a cease fire in the Formosa Strait in return for immediate evacuation of the offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu, informed diplomatic sources reported today.

The sources said the United States has told Communist China a cease fire must come first. In return, the diplomats said, the offshore islands might be neutralized.

THIS WAS HELD to imply the United States would try to persuade Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek to cease using the islands as a base for raids on the Communist Chinese mainland.

The diplomatic sources said these opposing stands were taken by the United States and Communist China respectively at the ambassadorial talks in Warsaw which opened earlier this week.

THE SOURCE SAID neither side has budged to far from its stand but that further negotiations may show whether the Peiping regime is prepared to make some concession to end the Formosa crisis.

This report came at these developments were occurring at the embattled scene: Three Nationalist Chinese cargo ships cracked the crumbling Communist blockade of Quemoy today and delivered their supplies under heavy fire.

The United States disclosed it is sending new guided missiles to Formosa.

Sweden to Vote Sunday, But Little Interest

STOCKHOLM — (UPI) — Sweden votes in municipal elections Sunday but there is little or no interest in them and poll observers said they doubted if more than a 65 per cent of eligible voters will bother to cast ballots.

Reason for this "couldn't care less" attitude is simply explained by the absence of hot issues, observers said. There just aren't any, although the question of boosted pensions may cause a few arguments.

This was the big issue in the June elections to the second chamber of parliament. The parties deadlocked after the June elections and have been discussing it ever since without being able to find a compromise.

First American Casualty Flown To Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa — (UPI) — The first American casualty of the Red Chinese bombardment of Quemoy was flown to Formosa today aboard a Nationalist transport plane through a hail of Communist artillery shells.

He was Army Sp4 George W. Johnston of 1117 Highstone St., Springdale, Pa., who arrived on the shell-battered island aboard a World War II two-engine C-47. Eight seriously wounded Chinese soldiers also were aboard.

JOHNSTON, who was hit by a shell fragment during a Communist bombardment, walked off the plane with his left arm in a bloody sling.

"I don't remember just how it happened," Johnston told United Press International. "The shells were popping all over the place."

JOHNSTON SAID he was the only American out of the approximately 30 military advisers stationed on Quemoy to be hit by Communist fire in the current crisis.

Faubus Asks Vote For Segregation

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (UPI) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus' stand in a Sept. 27 special integration election in Little Rock was plain today. He wants the people to vote to reopen four high schools segregated.

Faubus disclosed his attitude Thursday night in a television-radio speech.

He also urged the Little Rock School Board to lease the schools after the election to a private group that will open them with whites and Negroes separated.

FAUBUS LEFT EARLY today for the southern governors' conference in Lexington, Ky. He expects to be back late next Wednesday.

His attitude toward integration has been that it should not be forced upon a district.

After his speech Thursday night he was asked whether his urging the people of Little Rock to vote for segregation meant he had changed his attitude.

"IF THERE HAS been any change, it has been unconscious," he said. "Certainly I have become more aware of more issues and ramifications involved. I have learned from this controversy, as would any man who has been involved in a controversy of this nature."

He denied he was hoping secretly the voters will demand integration, to "get him off the hook." "I have never shunned my responsibility or tried to get off the hook by subterfuge," he said. "A bona fide private school system appears to be the only answer to the government's order to integrate at any price."

A CONDEMNED HOME at the west end of the Crossley Tract burned to the ground last night, after a series of circumstances delayed firetrucks for more than an hour. The Cathedral City unit of the California Division of Forestry became trapped by a deep excavation on a little road through the Cree ranch, after an alarm was turned in almost an hour after the blaze started. The Thousand Palms unit sped nine miles to extinguish the blaze. (Sun Photo).

'Hospital House' To Be Unveiled This Weekend

YUCCA VALLEY — Yucca Valley's $35,000 Golden Medallion "hospital house" will be officially unveiled here this week end.

A two-day program has been scheduled to observe the opening of the house that was erected in 24 hours by area builders. The house will be awarded to the hospital building fund donor whose name is drawn in December.

Scheduled to appear in the week-end program, starting Saturday, are Actress Sandra Giles, who was named "Miss Eight Ball of 1958" by the Los Angeles Press Club; recording artist Frank Howard; Latin music star Wally Ferner; Ben Gage, Art Miller and Miss Palm Springs, Darlene Day.

Anza Valley Starts Drive For Hospital

Anza Valley civic leaders today launched a campaign to build a hospital and medical center designed to serve the valley and the adjoining mountain area.

Starting with a hospital site offered as a contribution by Anza Valley Lands, Inc., campaign leaders hope to attract aid from "doctors or anyone interested in developing such a program."

It was pointed out that rapid growth and expansion of the area indicates the need for a hospital. Nearest medical facilities are now more than 40 miles distant.

Further information may be obtained from the Valley Lands Office at Anza, or by calling ANGELES 2-6233 in Los Angeles.

Rebel Algerians Plan to Create 'Government'

PARIS — (UPI) — Creation of an Algerian government-in-exile could upset French Premier Charles de Gaulle's peace plans for Algeria, informed sources said today.

They said it could also bring France's relations with Morocco and Tunisia close to the breaking point and embarrass the United States as well.

The rebel National Liberation Front was expected to announce establishment of a "free" Algerian government in Cairo today.

GOVERNMENT OFFICIALS here have been hoping Algerian participation in the Sept. 28 referendum on De Gaulle's new constitution would ease the conflict over Algerian demands for independence.

But establishment of a rebel government in Cairo would mean Algerian leaders were ready and willing to continue the struggle indefinitely, in the opinion of some observers here.

As for the United States, it would be placed in the position of having to recognize or ignore the new regime. Recognition would severely strain relations with France, and Paris officials considered this course extremely unlikely.

IGNORING THE "free" government, on the other hand, would risk losing more ground in Washington's efforts to woo Arab nations in the Western camp.

Arab experts pointed out Morocco and Tunisia probably would be forced to recognize the new Algerian regime. They said this could lead to a rupture of diplomatic relations between France and the former protectorates.

Texas Pilots Plan to Stay Up 3 More Days

DALLAS, Tex. — (UPI) — Two Texas pilots who already have set a record for continuous flight in a small plane are trying to stay up three more days.

Jim Heth, 25, and Bill Burkhardt, 33, reached 1,124 hours or 47 days in the air Thursday passing the record set by Woody Jongeward and Bob Woodhouse of Yuma, Ariz.

"We're jumping up and down in spirit because that's all we can do in this crowded cabin," Heth said. He said the plane's engine, operating beyond normal limits, was working well.

Gasoline and provisions have been delivered to the plane from a speeding pickup truck.

Rackets Committee Ends Hearings on Teamsters Union

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate Rackets Committee prepared to close the books today on what one member called "a great record of misconduct" in the Teamsters Union.

The committee wound up seven weeks of hearings late Thursday but left its record open for a closing statement by Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark.). Summing up the Teamsters investigation, McClellan said he would make it public later today or Saturday.

THE COMMITTEE devoted a large part of its final session to a what chief counsel Robert F. Kennedy described as "fraud, collusion and favoritism" in millions of dollars worth of Teamsters insurance business.

It purported to show Teamsters president James R. Hoffa channeled the lucrative account of the Central State Teamsters Conference through his friend, Allen Dorfman of Chicago, who shared in about $1,400,000 worth of commissions over seven years.

Whittier Couple Accused of Passing Bad Checks to Finance Honeymoon.

Suspected of financing their Palm Springs honeymoon with $350 worth of bad checks, a recently married Whittier couple was today booked on suspicion of cashing no-account checks.

Now facing a possible felony charge are Alvin Wilmer Schramm, 27, and his wife, Sallie Dawn Schramm, 30, of Whittier.

DETECTIVE T. M. Aitken said the two were believed to have left Whittier for a marriage trip to Yuma, but repeated their vows in Palm Springs instead.

Aitken said Mrs. Schramm is accused of spreading $350 worth of checks through gift shops, beauty parlors, restaurants and hotels in Palm Springs, Desert Hot Springs and Twentynine Palms.

THE CHECKS WERE allegedly made out to Mrs. Schramm's husband.

Sheriff's deputies at the Norwalk sub-station last night arrested the couple on request of Palm Springs police. Mr. and Mrs. Schramm were returned here by Detective Aitken and Police Matron Ellen Biavaschi.

Television Set 'Out-of-Order'

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — An "out-of-order" sign today hangs on the television set of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Arnold.

The Arnolds returned to their home, 66-174 First Street, from a summer vacation and found that thieves had carted off their three, 30-foot television sets.

When buying watermelons, look for firm, fresh melons which are symmetrically shaped. They may vary from a deep solid green to gray.

Angel View Clinic Reports More Activity This Summer Than in Previous History

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — More patients than ever before were treated this summer at the Angel View Crippled Children's Clinic, Dr. Robert Bingham, clinical medical director, said this week.

Practice Makes Perfect RUTLAND, Vt. — (UPI) — After narrowly losing a golf tournament, Joe Fournier decided to do some extra practicing. He promptly shot two holes-in-one on the same day.

Dr. Bingham, reporting at a meeting of the AVCC out-patient board, said 21 new patients were examined in July and August and 97 physical treatments and nine ultra-sound treatments were given.

Clinic receipts, including memorial contributions, for the summer were listed as follows:

Cathedral City

By JEAN PATANE

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Hewitson returned to their Rancho Mirage home Saturday after spending the summer in Toronto, Canada, visiting with their daughter and family and their many friends. On Monday Mr. Hewitson opened the Cathedral Pharmacy for the eighth season and is being assisted by pharmacist Pearl Millasich, who is well known in the desert area.

Mavis and Shirley Larkin, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Larkin, left Tuesday for San Diego and will be staying at Quetzal Hall while attending San Diego State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Warner (Flora) Otto have returned from an extended vacation in California, Nevada and Montana. While visiting friends in Grass Valley Mr. Otto was notified of the serious illness of his father, William

C. Otto and they left for Oakland to be with him for the few remaining days of his life.

From Oakland they drove to Reno and Elko, Nev., and on to Corvallis, Mont., where they visited for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Daniels, who have spent many winter seasons in Cathedral City.

On the return trip they stopped at Yellowstone National Park, and then spent a week visiting with friends in Hollywood prior to returning to open their Otto Realty Office for another season.

All Should Cooperate in City Lawn Planting Plan

Rather than attempt to legislate on such a delicate yet important public matter, the City Council, at the suggestion of popular member Ruth Hardy, has adopted a resolution appealing directly to each resident of Palm Springs not to use obnoxious manure fertilizers when planting new lawns this season.

Each individual and all public organizations have thus been placed upon their "honor" to do their part in co-operating on a city-wide scale for the benefit of all.

In recent years it has been increasingly proven that there are many inoffensive and reasonably priced fertilizers readily available which give splendid results with lawns, plants, shrubs and flowers.

And be it noted that with each passing year, greater numbers of residents have been helping in the movement to make Palm Springs a cleaner and more pleasantly beautiful place in which to live, by discontinuing the use of fly-breeding and stench producing manure.

Now that the Council has made its official plea, and most of the boards controlling other public properties have also notified their intention of full compliance, this could well be the first year when the community could be rid of the pests and nuisances which have plagued so many in past lawn planting seasons.

All that is necessary is for individual residents to join in the improvement campaign en masse.

Certainly everyone will who has proper consideration for neighbors and the general welfare of the community.

Let us all take pride in NOT being pointed out as a "stinker."

The Tide Must Turn

WASHINGTON, D. C. — There is a hidden and unreported result of the Democratic victories in Maine — call it coalition.

Plans are afoot for a keynote speech early next month by a Southern Senator who is right now working through friends with some Western Republican Senators. No later than the second week in October, the following action probably will be proposed to stem the power of the Northern Democrats in the 86th Congress which meets in January.

SOUTHERNERS IN THE Senate will be forcefully invited to boycott the Democratic caucus and meet in ones of their own. The Senate contains some 16 Southerners who are expected to attend. The House contains around 85. These estimated figures are more than enough to remove the balance of power from the Northern Democrats and offer it to the Republicans. Meanwhile, the Republicans in Senate and House, having caucused, will receive a tender of alliance from the Democratic Southerners. This coalition has existed informally for many years. Its prototype is the House Committee on Rules where the Southerners and Republicans have an effective conservative bloc which acts as a traffic control point.

BUT THE RULES committee is negative and limited to the strategies of parliamentary delay. The proposed coalition would contemplate taking charge of organizing the two bodies of Congress, naming the committee chairmen and stacking the committees along ideological lines instead of partisan lines, the latter having become meaningless.

It can't be done? Why not? There is nothing in the Constitution or the rules of the Senate and House which recognizes any political party by name. The "majority" which organizes each body is a voluntary group. The "minority" which is accorded representation on every committee is also self-appointed. Nothing stands in the way of forming a conservation coalition — nothing but the lack of determination.

THERE ARE SIGNS that the determination has been fired by elections in Maine and in primary elections elsewhere. California had already indicated Pat Brown (D) as a probable winner over Bill Knowland (R) for the governorship.

But when the Wisconsin and Utah primaries last week showed massive build-ups by the Democrats, there were two kinds of repercussions among anti-liberals. The first of these made the whole GOP establishment shake in its shoes. The second one set off this planning for a counter-attack by coalition.

CENTRAL TO THE whole idea is recognition of an asset which every member of Congress holds dear — his seniority rating.

Should the conservatives come together, everybody would keep his seniority. Another agreement in the making would be that each member also retain his party standing at home.

Conceivably, for example, Ohio could provide the coalition with two Senators — the Democratic Lausche and the Republican Bricker.

THESE PLANS ARE not new. For years Senator Karl Mundt (R, S. D.) has been making coalition speeches in the South. Former Speaker Joe Martin (R, Mass.) is a great favorite all over the one-time Conference. It is an open secret that Rep. Clarence Brown (R, Ohio) is the GOP ambassador to the Southern majority on the House Rules Committee.

On last June 20, the Richmond News-Leader carried a pro-coalition editorial entitled, "Time to Talk Realignment." On July 7 this editorial was entered in the Congressional Record by a former GOP National Chairman, Carroll Reece of Tennessee.

UNTIL NOW, political realignment has been prevented by lethargy, by habit, by bitter memories of Reconstruction and by self-interest in seniority status. But it seems possible that the shock from Maine, Utah, Wisconsin and elsewhere has brought another law into force — the law of over-extension.

Nobody ever conquers all. Always there is a place from which the conqueror reaches the end of the line and comes reeling back. There was Hannibal from the gates of Rome, Hitler from Stalingrad, the Virginia Dynasty which carried all but one electoral vote for Monroe in 1820, the Republicans who crashed the Solid South in 1928 behind Mr. Hoover, the Democrats who took all except Maine and Vermont in 1936 for Mr. Roosevelt. Every tide has its turning.

—Holmes Alexander

Dear Abby...

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I planned to drive (just the two of us) from Portland, Maine to Midland, Texas. A neighbor (widow) heard about it and ask if she could come along for the ride. She offered to pay one-third of the gas and her own expenses so we saw no harm in taking her. She is about 35 and she wore short shorts and a pony tail on the trip and flirted with every service station attendant she saw, but the worst part of it was this. She sat in the front seat with my husband the whole trip while I sat in the back seat holding the luggage. She said riding in the back seat makes her sick. Going back should I say anything to her or not?

BURNED UP Tell her that riding in the back seat made YOU sick. Offer her some motion sickness pills and sit in front with your own husband.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14 years old and am in the ninth grade. Boys drive up in front of our house and just sit out there. When my mother asks them what they want they say, "Send Sandra out." I am too embarrassed to go out there and talk to them, but I wish I had the nerve. What should I do? NO NERVE

DEAR NO: Go out — just once and tell them that if they want you, they should come to the door and ring the bell. If they refuse — tell your mother to let them sit.

DEAR ABBY: We are wondering if you could settle a dispute for us. What are two unrelated women to each other when they are married to brothers? One says we are sisters-in-law, the other says we are nothing to each other. JUDY AND BECKY

DEAR GIRLS: Technically a woman is a sister-in-law only to the brother or sister of the man she married.

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy of 20 and expect to be called into the Army any day now. My girlfriend is only 16 but she acts much older. I am very much in love with her and know she feels the same way. We plan to be engaged when she is 18 and graduates from school. Here is our problem. My girlfriend wants to get engaged before I go into the service, but I disagree. I don't think it is fair to her down at her age for two years while I am away. We have tried to talk this over like adults but she insists she wants to become engaged now and wait for me. Please help us solve this problem.

TWO IN LOVE DEAR TWO: Your girlfriend is lucky to have a boyfriend with as much brains as you display. If your "love" is real, it will hold up until you return from the service. I vote against the engagement.

DEAR ABBY: Five years ago I married a widower. I was a widow. Neither of us ever had any children. I am now 35 and he is 63. We own a comfortable home, have no debts and travel with a grand circle of friends.

My husband is a perfect host and I am always congratulated on my fine husband who, by the way, is important in our church. When we are alone he calls me vulgar names and tells me if I don't like it I can get out because there are lots of wealthy widows waiting for him. His mental cruelty is making a nervous wreck out of me. I took my marriage vows seriously. Could he have a split personality or is it just meanness? Please help me.

ALL CONFUSED DEAR ALL: Your husband should be checked thoroughly by a doctor. Tell the doctor (in confidence, of course) about your husband's inconsistent behavior. He needs his mental furniture dusted.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HE-MAN": When you were married you promised to "cleave" to each other. This is not done with a MEAT CLEAVER. You need police protection.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope.

If you want a collection of Abby's best letters and answers in one book, ask your bookstore to get "DEAR ABBY" for you.

Gonna take a Sentimental Journey - - MILWAUKEE, Wis. Tuesday, 9-16 Don't recall all of the words of that song, either, but it applies. Only that instead of leaving at seven, I left at eleven a.m., for this city where I was born.

OUTSIDE OF Palm Springs, of course, Milwaukee is one of my favorite cities alongside of San Francisco and Chicago. I don't remember much about New York.

Disappointing though, there's no monument at the spot where I arrived. Only an ugly black warehouse. Factories and warehouses have replaced the entire residential district of my kid days.

No monument, not even the old cream brick house.

AND DOWN AT Third and Chestnut where I used to sell Milwaukee Sentinels too many years ago, my first sortie into the newspaper world which I never left, no plaque.

Not even a Chestnut street. They've changed the name to Juneau.

Oh, well, those things happen.

BUT SOME THINGS are unchanged. The old hotels into which my parents used to take me as an awe-stricken kid are still there, re-plushed to be sure and I am not awed these days, the old depots haven't changed a bit, and the gemeutlichkeit is still here. (If that isn't spelled right, Don, you change it.)

(ED. NOTE — I don't know either.)

THERE ARE MANY wonderful eating places. Those Bavarian Nights they had at El Mirador last winter and at the Chi Chi this summer once a week — every night is Bavarian Beer Bust night here.

They have funny eating habits, however. Went into a noted Wisconsin Avenue spot with my niece, early to avoid the crowd. The place was jammed.

PRETTY SOON we were the only ones left.

"Where'd everybody go?" I asked the waiter.

"To the county stadium to watch the Braves," he said. "We run a string of buses from here to the ball park each night. Haney's boys are home. People come in to eat early then board the buses for the Stadium."

"We had to add more buses twice."

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

Up in the cool of the Galway morning. A "desperate" day of rain. (Without rain, it is "a lovely day.")

The Galway streets are narrow and flanked with old, gray stone buildings. For the town is old: It was mentioned by Ptolemy. And it was built up for the Normans under Richard de Burgo in 1232.

They held it in lofty disdain of the surrounding, native Irish and passed a law that, "neither O nor Mac shall strut or swagger thro the streets of Galway."

THE IRISH TOOK a dim view of such snobbery. They raided Galway regularly and gave the Anglo-Normans their lumps.

Over the West Gate was carved in stone:

"From the fury of the O'Flahertys good Lord deliver us."

WE WALKED down today to the Church of St. Nicholas.

"You'd want to know that Christopher Columbus himself stopped here for holy prayer. Before he set out to discover America," said the man at the gate.

"How do they know this?" I asked.

"IT'S ALL IN THE history books now," he said. "For there was a Galwayman, Rice de Culvey, steered his ships on the great voyage of discovery. No doubt without him there'd be no America. For the Spanish were poor sailors."

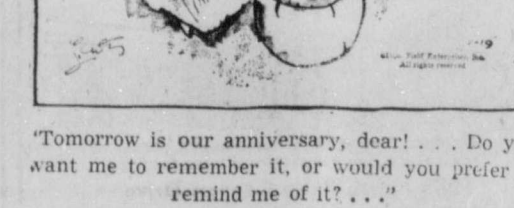

"All in, America should give thanks for the Galwayman. For otherwise it might be still a land of howlin' savages. God forbid."

DOWN NEAR THE Fish Market is the Spanish Arch leading into the Spanish Parade. For in olden days, Galway was a great port of trade with Spain.

"And the bold Spanish dons walked the streets of Galway in their fine clothes. Buying one and all a glass of their fine wines," he added with a slight cough. "A wonderful remedy against a desperate day like this."

"Will you take a glass?" "A small bit of Guinness, I will now," he said. "And God honor yer kind intentions."

GRIN AND BEAR IT By LICHTY

"Tomorrow is our anniversary, dear! . . . Do you want me to remember it, or would you prefer to remind me of it? . . ."

EARL WILSON:

The Hunting Season Opens

NEW YORK — Taffy Tuttle, the husband-hunter, is still hunting, hoping she'll be able to open the fall mating season, so I took her over to the Copacabana to get some tips from the chorus girls.

"Every year seems to be getting to be Leap Year," Taffy said. "So many girls call up the guys for dates now."

"We don't ask boys for dates where I come from down in Greenville, S.C.," spoke up Anne Shirley, 18, who's been in town three weeks. "If I did that here and the folks at home found out about it, they wouldn't let me come back to Greenville!"

Pretty Terry McDermott of Fairlawn, N.J., laughed and said, "American girls pursue up to a point."

"Then they stop and let the man chase them. The man can't figure it out and it drives him crazy."

But — she confessed — a girl friend had pursued. "We were at a dance. She said, 'See that boy over there? I'm gonna have him.' She borrowed my eyebrow pencil and wrote her name and address and put it in his pocket."

"Three weeks later he called her and said, 'I seem to have your name and address.' They were married three months later. We laugh about it now and she says, 'Oh, wasn't that a terrible thing to do!'"

Chorus Girl Gloria Curtis — whom the other gals call "Grammy" because she's all of 24 — comes from Emporium, Pa., which during the war was referred to as "Gristown."

At that time it had 20 girls to one man; it's still rated about six to one.

"Anyway," she continued, "I was in a Las Vegas show and another girl and I would 'scout the audience' while dancing."

"Sure, you look over the fellows in the audience."

"If you see one you like, you glance at the girl you're working with and we know. One night my girl friend glanced at one and said 'I like his looks. I'd like to meet him.'"

"He was engaged to the girl he was there with and it wasn't easy."

"But later when he stepped away from his table to gamble, my girl friend happened to bump into him — accidentally, of course! — on her way to the ladies' room."

"The next weekend he came to Las Vegas without his fiancée. Seven months later he and my girl friend were married."

"But I wouldn't want you to think that I believe in girls pursuing men," added "Grammy" Curtis.

"It's always somebody's girl friend that does it," muttered Taffy Tuttle. "I think I might let my girl friends worry and try it for myself."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . Nelson Rockefeller's expecting to use Pat Weaver, former NBC Pres., as his Robt Montgomery in the TV portion of his N.Y. election campaign . . . Audrey Meadows is giving up her Washington home, will move to N.Y. and do more TV . . . Webb and Knapp's Bill Zerkendorf will build a big hotel on the 51st St. and Shor will surrender his site in a year . . . Ethel Merman's show, "Gypsy" (Gypsy Rose Lee's bio), is stalled — Sister June Haver hasn't given her OK to be portrayed in it . . .

Robt Paige was toasting marshmallows in his Apt., burned up most of the living room . . . Sloan Simpson says she's job-hunting . . . Shapely Virginia Iverson's a British addition to the touring "Ice Capades of '59."

Sal Mineo'll have a huge housewarming at his expensive Bronxville home Sept. 22 . . . Life magazine's doing a story on the Crosby boys and their romances . . . Burt Lancaster and Darryl Zanuck are bidding for film rights to the Tallulah Bankhead show, "Crazy October" . . . Socialite "Boaty" Boatwright says she'll take singer Merv Griffin to No'h Carolina to meet her family . . . Impresario Sol Hurok's trying to arrange a Russian tour for jazz pianist Errol Garner . . . Henny Youngman insists that Texans can still be proud — theirs is the biggest glacier-free state in the Union.

Abbe Lane rejected an offer to co-star in an Italian film with Sophia Loren . . . Lloyd Bridges' "Sea Hunt" TV series is being sued by an author who claims he had the idea first . . . Singer Della Reese is pouring some of her recording money into a chain of elocution schools; the first'll open in Detroit . . . A young Mexican actress tried out for the B'way show, "Handful of Fire," which is set in Mexico, but was told, "Sorry, you're too authentic — you'd make the rest of the cast look too phony."

EARL'S PEARLS: Have you ever noticed that the adjective in "Cheap Politician" doesn't refer to what he cost the taxpayers?

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A woman, claims Monique Van Vooren, is always looking for a man clever enough to make lots of money and foolish enough to spend it.

Joey Adams swears his "Gags to Riches" TV show is entirely honest: "It must be — nobody knows what's going on, including the master of ceremonies." That's earl, brother.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

New Sponsor Rumble

HOLLYWOOD — A rumble from 'way out Chesterfield — way that shattered Hollywood this week was that the cigarette sponsor might invoke the "morals clause" in its contract with Eddie Fisher and quit bankrolling his TV show because of his fling with Liz Taylor.

Miss Taylor, it's reported, took one too many of those tongue-loosening "happy pills" prescribed for her back ailment before she gave out an interview. That's the interview in which she said she hadn't broken up the Eddie-Debbie marriage, that it had already cracked up — and is Liz sorry!

ADD SHOCKERS: At NBC-TV's closed-circuit press preview of its new-season shows, George Gobel introduced Fisher to the newspapermen as "a young, curly-haired lad who is destined to turn into a brand-new Casanova" . . . Following which Eddie was supposed to sing "Ev'ry Day Is Lady's Day with Me," as rehearsed, but didn't — for obvious reasons!

Other funny segments of the same private showing: Bob Hope referred to TV critics as "the grey-flannel Mafia" — Jack Parr humbly described himself as "the announcer for the Zsa Zsa Gabor show" — and Milton Berle explained that NBC produces so many specs because they're longer and bigger-budgeted than the regular shows, hence the viewers "can't tell how lousy they are!"

THEN THERE WERE the two starlets at 20th-Fox who got carried away in a kaffee — klatsch. First starlet: "Debbie and Eddie, Eddie and Debbie, that's all I hear people talking about these days — what about Matsu and Quemo?" Second starlet: "Oh, are THEY getting divorced too?"

One thing for sure Los Angeles has that the rest of the country doesn't have (aside from smog!) is an abundance of silent screen stars. On two local shows this week alone six of the old-timers appeared. "Local talent" being Francis X. Bushman and the Duncan Sisters as guests of the new Frank Parker Show on Station KTLA and Clara Kimball Young, Anita Stewart, Betty Blythe and Gavin Gordon on the same station's Greet the People panel show.

Only stipulation the old-timers make when they agree to appear on these shows is that they NOT be introduced as such, and who can blame them? They all look great.

PETER VIERTTEL asked for a divorce, at long last, and it should arrive about the same time as Deborah Kerr's from Tony Bartley . . . Actor-turned-producer George Jessel turns actor again for Columbia Pictures' new rocknroll musical, "Juke Box Amboree."

Warner Brothers' "Auntie Mame," with Rosalind Russell filmed fabulously in her original stage spot, turned up a smash hit at its Westwood Village sneak preview, and I wouldn't cut a second of its somewhat long two hours — and — 42 — minutes' running time. It's exactly the same as its legit counterpart except for one added scene in which Roz plays a pressure-cooker saleslady.

CATHY CROSBY, Bob's daughter, signed with MGM to play a mulatto girl who sings "Blue Moon" in MGM's "Night of the Quarter Moon."

Mala Powers agreed to do a personal appearance with the premiere of her new movie, "Sierra Baron," at a drive-in theatre — but doesn't know whether to get a new gown or get her car washed!

CHANNEL CHATTER — Lila Lee's son, Jim Kirkwood Jr., co-starred in a local show, Night Court, as a drunk — along with his father. Next day the producers of December Bride signed the youngster for a spot on one of the network show's segment opposite Zsa Zsa Gabor.

Ozzie and Harriet Nelson were upset about reports that their 18-year-old son Ricky was dating 26-year-old Joan Collins until the lad put them straight: the Collins he was out with was 17-year-old Louise Collins.

HERE'S THE WAY they explain the quiz show scandal in Hollywood: "They gave away so many things — airplanes, yachts, cars, refrigerators, stoves, money — there was only one thing left to hand out and that was the answers to the questions!" . . . So now, Ben Blue clues us, we call it Show Quizness.

Seminars Teach Women How to Save and Spend

By GAY PAULEY
UPI Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Women need more knowledge, if they're to pull the family purse strings properly, says a woman banker who heads a new project to educate us on handling our gold-digging.

"I'm not going to say that women are stupid about money," said attractive Mrs. Dorothy Noble Smith, "but they've been blocked by their husbands from learning enough."

Yet today, woman in all her blissful ignorance makes the spending decisions. She also helps to pile up a record consumer debt which Mrs. Smith called "a frightening thing."

"This," she said, "is in contrast to a century ago when a woman who was fool enough to try opening a bank account could have it cancelled immediately by a male relative. In our grandfather's time, the men didn't even tell their wives how much they made. Now a man just turns his paycheck over to his wife."

And the women just aren't ready for the responsibility, although they are "intelligent" enough to demand more knowledge, she said.

It's here that Mrs. Smith and the New York State Bankers Association come in. The association this week set up a women's committee "to tell the story of money and banking." It hopes the project will be copied by banking groups across the country. Mrs. Smith, who at 42 is an executive with Chemical Corn Exchange Bank of New York, is committee chairman.

The association will send banking experts on speaking tours, will hold seminars on saving, spending, budgets, and will work closely with women's club groups.

"This is the first time the banking industry has gone directly to the women... first time any industry actually has," said Mrs. Smith in an interview.

When you listen to her reel off statistics on our control of the dollar you wonder why we've been so neglected.

Women vote approximately 70 per cent of the shares of American corporations; are beneficiaries of 80 per cent of all fiduciary funds; are heads of more than four million families; are directly engaged in some phases of management of half a million small businesses; there are 21 million working women earning more than 42 billion dollars before taxes; and women spend almost 80 cents of each dollar of national income.

HONEYMOONING IN CANADA are Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Frew, who were married here on September 6. She is the former Rae Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harold Roberts of Palm Springs.

Honeymooners Returning Home This Weekend

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Robert John Frew will return to the Village this weekend after honeymooning in Canada.

The couple were married Sunday, September 6 at St. Paul's Episcopal Church at a double ring ceremony performed by Reverend Walter Reuning.

The bride is the former Rae Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harold Roberts of Palm Springs and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frew of Vancouver, B. C., Canada.

The bridegroom is a building contractor.

The young couple will make their home in Palm Springs at 501 Calle Abronia.

Prolong Summers Returning Home As Snow Starts

Home from another summer in Dubois, Wyoming are the Ed Canbys and their three children, who arrived in Palm Springs Friday evening. It was also a return to summer, as it was snowing in Wyoming when they left.

Having spent several summers there, the Canbys decided they wanted a summer home there and while they were there this summer purchased six acres of land. They have already sunk a well and plan to build a log cabin with a circular fireplace.

They were so busy looking for land this summer (the big ranches aren't too anxious to sell small parcels) that Ed didn't have much time for painting. He did do two seascapes and one of the canvases won second popular award in the art gallery in Dubois.

Things are perking this weekend... Tonight the Ranch Club is opening its diningroom... and Joyce and Noel Clarke will be here for the festive occasion... Tonight, too, is the weekly Poolside Picnic at Biltmore... which has been so popular all summer long... and it's weekly New Orleans Carnival at Chi Chi... where sparkling Clessa Williams and the Mason-Dixon Trio hold forth... New this week is the bongo music at Howard Manor with Jack Costanza, king of the bongo players here for a short engagement... and at the Huddle-Springs are those old favorites, the Guadalajara Boys...

Co and Maggie Thornton were in Rio de Janeiro this past weekend... and had changed their itinerary and will visit Panama and Mexico City... They will dock at San Pedro and expect to be home in Palm Springs by October 10...

A gay note from Janice and Lee Doud at Gravelly Lake near Tacoma... where they have had a wonderful summer... They spent a day with the Ned Bishops on Hood's Canal... and were delighted to find the Jack Kenastons, Ben Shearers, Edith and Dick Edwards there... They went sailing... visited and had dinner together... and it was a Palm Springs reunion... Janice says "All are heading south with the Douds joining the end of the month... via Dallas... and then Palm Springs and The Colony about October 10..."

Janice is also happily anticipating a Christmas visit to her daughter and her entire family... who will be at The Colony for two weeks during the holidays...

Back in Palm Springs and finding many changes... after an absence of three years... are Wanda and George Alles... They had sold their home here before he received his orders bringing him back to March Air Force Base... so they are living at 1385 Buena Vista...

Their daughter Linda is enrolled in the University of Arizona... and son Todd, who's an exchange student in Russia, is due back and will enroll in the Georgetown University...

The Alles family spent two years in Africa and another year in Spain (he's with air installation USAF)... and before coming home... they spent thirty days touring Europe and attending the Fair...

Willie and Trav Rogers are certainly eligible enough anyway... but Willie called me to say she's a Villager because she was here all summer... She also called my attention to a goof on qualifications... I said Auntie Helen was manager of Saks... when I know good and well it was I, Magnin's... If you didn't catch the error... just join me on the sidelines...

Mary Hurrell says this warm weather is a shock to her system... after going through the coldest summer she has had in years up in Banff... She's swimming but hasn't started riding yet... She's looking forward to having her children with her soon... probably next week... Marilyn and John Newell and their two darling children Trish and Bo are migrating to the United States from Canada... and may even decide to make Palm Springs their home...

Among weekend visitors here at the Tropicana were the Harold Kemps... Kemp, one of NBC's top men, was formerly in New York... now in Burbank he's executive producer of the Dinah Shore TV show... Also at the Tropicana was Nitch Leissen... executive producer for the Shirley Temple TV series...

The George Browns and their two children Daphne and Stephanie have also been vacationing there... Brown is with Lloyds of London and addressed Kiwanis Club yesterday noon...

Vacation Days Are Over for Hammond Family

Wynne Hammond, vocal coach, has returned to the Village after a summer at Idyllwild where she taught voice and choral work, in addition to fulfilling several singing engagements.

In collaboration with her husband Alex Hammond, she presented numerous choral programs with a 70-voice chorus from Desert Sun School Camp, where the Hammonds have been music directors for many summers.

Some of Mrs. Hammond's Palm Springs voice students have been making names for themselves. Nanci Gardner won plaudits for her leading role of "Pitti-Sing" in the performance of "The Mikado" at the Redlands Bowl this summer; Peggy Schuler, now a sophomore at Pomona College, is soloist on the Campus Radio station programs and Gail McGrew, who has just entered Valparaiso University in Indiana, has been selected as one of six sopranos for the Chapel Choir.

Hammond, too, is back as director of music at the Palm Springs High School. Daughter Wendy has returned from Arrowhead where she spent the summer with the family of Dr. and Mrs. William Elliott. Wendy spent a few days in Los Angeles attending the new shows.

A TOY WHITE POOLE was a souvenir gift from the Hillsdilly Golf Tournament at Cherry Hills Country Club and Villager Georgina Poston, who spent the summer in Denver, brought home the poodle which was won by her escort Mark Kramer of Continental Air Lines. The little animal has been named Markete.

Olsens Home From Summer Tour of Europe

Vacationing Villagers continue to return home as a new winter season gets under way.

Bill and Ella Olsen, owners of the Palm Springs Playschool, returned Friday evening from a three month vacation most of which was spent travelling in Europe.

Leaving here in July they first went to Indiana to visit Mrs. Olsen's parents, then to Washington, Atlantic City, and New York where they attended the Elk's convention.

Following the convention the Olsens sailed from New York Harbor aboard the Britannica. Arriving in Ireland they motored to Dublin and from there flew to London before attending the World's Fair in Brussels. They travelled by train to Amsterdam and then on to Germany where they rented a Volkswagen to tour that country, Switzerland, Austria, Italy, where they spent a week in Rome and a week in Venice.

Monte Carlo was also on the agenda with the final stopping place the city of Paris which they report was all the song writers write about. They visited Lourdes before leaving for New York and watched a procession of 200,000 pilgrims holding lighted candles making their annual trip to the shrine.

The Olsens put 5,000 miles of travel on their rented Volkswagen.

Invading Field

Plastic, Aluminum, Steel for Homes

By ROBERT G. SHORTAL

United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI)—The manufacturers of plastic, aluminum, steel and some other "modern" materials are stepping up their efforts to invade the homebuilding field, dominated for centuries by wood.

Some of these manufacturers have built prototypes of their "home of tomorrow," while others have merely expressed their intention or desire to invade the multi-billion-dollar home market.

U.S. STEEL CORP., for example, is now making a three-bedroom, ranch-style home that utilizes 2½ tons of steel in its structure. The home is designed to sell in the $10,000 price range.

A spokesman for the corporation's prefabricated home division, U. S. Steel Homes, said the new home can be erected and enclosed on a site in less than one day by an average crew. It features load-bearing exterior walls framed in steel which permit use of a free roof-truss span.

"THIS WILL ALLOW interior partitions to be placed with an eye to better design layout rather than where they must be placed for support."

Monsanto Chemical Co. has built the model of an all-plastic home featuring large plastic units bent to form ceilings, walls and floors of entire rooms.

These moulded modules may "be easily removed or added to the house to meet a family's changing space needs," a Monsanto spokesman explained.

HE SAID THE house also incorporates conduits, ducts and piping made of flexible and corrosion-resistant plastic which are integrally formed into wall and floor sections.

General Electric Company's idea of the "home of tomorrow" is a prefabricated, all-electric house making the maximum use of plastic panels.

THE KITCHEN sink and bathroom lavatories are molded into plastic counters. The tub is also plastic. The plastic walls of the shower stall have perforations through which water jets against the bather from all angles.

A GE spokesman said the roof also is the ceiling, which at night serves as a single lighting fixture, bathing every area—except the bathroom—in even, indirect light.

ALUMINUM CO. of America has designed two homes making wide use of aluminum in both the exterior structure and the interior finish.

ADOBE HOTEL OWNERS Jim and Marilyn Harstad survey the rapid progress of their new expansion program. The Harstads are adding 10 new luxurious units to their Palm Desert hotel in a program designed to completely modernize the popular hostelry. Units will be decorated in contemporary motif and will have refrigerated air conditioning. Designed by area architect Bob Pitchford, the hotel expansion is estimated in excess of $100,000. Harstad hopes to have it completed in time for the winter season. The hotel is located at 45-406 Palms-to-Pines Highway, across from the Sandpiper Apartment project. (Desert Sun Photo)

Gardening in the Desert

In the last two editions we have dealt with shrubs that do not require an abundance of care, irrigation, or fertilizing and therefore are economical.

However, there is a large variety of other shrubs—a little more expensive in their needs—that have been and are decorating many of the more resplendent gardens in and around our village.

IF THE AMATEUR gardener has an abundance of leisure time, patience and fortitude, has a house with plenty of northern frontage or a portion of his grounds that will furnish not too deep a shade at all times, he might experiment with some azaleas that have proven their ability to withstand the rigors of our summer heat.

We have had fair success in transplanting those potted azaleas that are so frequently received as Easter presents, these might possibly be an excellent trial-horse before spending your hard-earned money on the more expensive Rose Queen Coral Bells, or Elizabeth and Albert.

CAREFULLY CRACK the pot that encircles your Easter present, avoid breaking the ball of peat moss encircling the azaleas tender roots. Bearing in mind that azaleas are of the acid-loving type of plants, give the prepared soil an occasional feeding of aluminum sulphate and a tablespoon of fertilizer before and after blooming, cottonseed meal for preference.

Confidentially, we believe that many other small shrubs, the Natal plum for instance, would provide a better, all year-round decorative growth in that narrow bed between the concrete walk and the house than any of the other shrubs that are seasonal in their display.

THERE ARE SO many varieties of shrubs, some that thrive well in the desert and many that thrive best in other climates that it well behooves the amateur gardener to deal only with your local nurseryman who, for his own reputation and the satisfaction of his customers, stocks only desert proven plants of all kinds.

For instance, a visit, at the end of May and the first two weeks in June, to the Azalea Canyons about two miles from Idyllwild on the road to Banning, might give the amateur gardener ideas. Azaleas, in canyons where running streams from the melting snow on the mountains above keep the ground continuously damp and huge pine and other trees furnish continual shade, grow to more than eight feet in some instances, and where a mass of blooms throw out a perfume that almost becomes nauseating, might lead to a visit to a local nurseryman.

He would listen, then shake his head. Probably he would say, "Not for the desert." This is the desert, these are the kind of things the amateur gardener has to forget.

THE NATAL PLUM'S shiny dark green leaves and its star-like white flower that blooms infrequently all year round, if kept trimmed to about three feet will provide a more ornament growth and be more economical than plants like azaleas and camellias.

When ordering be sure to ask for Carissa Grandiflora; the other variety, Prostrata, has the crawling propensities of lipia and bermuda. The former, if not regularly trimmed, will grow to a height of eight feet and look somewhat straggly. Watering once a week seems to keep it sufficiently irrigated if in good soil. T.G.M.

Four Bond Issue Proposals To Be Presented to Voters

Four bond issue propositions totaling $1,990,000 will be on the Nov. 4 general election ballot in accordance with instructions issued this week by the Board of Supervisors.

In the order in which they will appear on the ballot, based on relative importance, the issues are as follows: Probation offices and jail facilities, $715,000; tuberculosis hospital, for TB units at the general hospital in Arlington, $630,000; health center, including acquisition of land, $265,000; and hospital laboratory and mental health building at the general hospital, $380,000.

ADMINISTRATIVE OFFICER Robert T. Andersen said it is planned to use part of the $715,000 bond issue for jail facilities in Indio, adding an area to the jail building now under construction there for housing of 48 prisoners, a unit to double the capacity making provisions for a total of 96 prisoners.

The estimated cost of the additional structure is $80,000 but Andersen said other costs may raise the total to $90,000. The remainder will be spent on probation offices and jail facilities in the city of Riverside.

ALTHOUGH THE supervisors gave a nod of approval last week of an 80-bed TB hospital estimated to cost upwards of $900,000, they changed their minds and set a figure of $630,000 now to provide as many beds as possible for that amount.

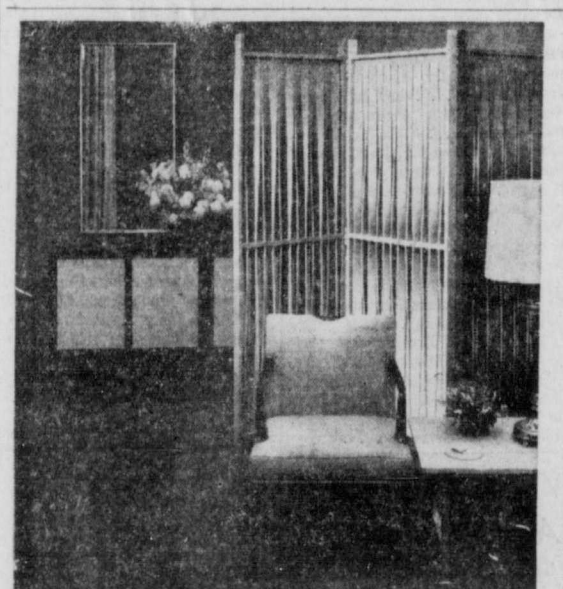

Architect Herman Ruhnau said the per-bed cost would be "close to $12,000" indicating an 80-bed unit.

"We need 90 to 100 beds," declared Dr. William Kinney, president of the county tuberculosis association. "Eighty beds is the absolute minimum. To provide less than that is false economy."

SUPERVISOR George Berkeley said that if the 50 beds do not prove to be sufficient, an addition can be constructed with additional funds from some source other than the bond issue.

The health center and the mental health facility previously approved by the supervisors together as a $425,000 bond issue, was broken into two parts in this week's action, with $265,000 made a separate issue for a health center, and the remaining $160,000 increased to $380,000 to take care of a hospital laboratory in conjunction with the mental health unit.

THE WOVEN EFFECT of this screen is achieved by inserting spacers between saw cuts made in a thin plywood panel. Three-dimensional pattern is decorative indoors and out, and can be used as a room divider, furniture backdrop, shield for a work area, or to help define certain areas of the house. A free plan showing details for several screens like this may be obtained by writing Douglas Fir Plywood Association, Tacoma 2, Wash.

PUC Reports Charges Low

Combined monthly charges for gas, electric and telephone service in California for a typical small household are among the lowest in any state in the nation, it was indicated by an annual survey of rates in the 25 largest cities of the United States which was announced today by General C. Lyn Fox, president of the California Public Utilities Commission.

The survey is based on rates in effect on June 30, 1958.

FOR 50 THERMS of gas, 100 kilowatt hours of electric energy, and two-party flat-rate telephone service residents of San Francisco pay $11.03 per month. This is the lowest combined charge for these amounts of service in any of the nation's 25 largest cities.

Los Angeles, with a combined charge of $11.48 per month rates third among the major cities. Second is San Antonio, Texas, at $11.37 per month.

THESE THREE ARE the only cities with a combined monthly charge below $11.50 and the highest monthly charge, for exactly the same amount of service, amounts to $27 in one eastern city. Three cities are in the $12 to $13 bracket; three $13 to $14; six $14 to $16; three $17 to $19; one $31.32 and one $27.

Los Angeles still has the lowest telephone rate for basic two-party-line residential service at $32.50 per month (not including Federal tax), while the second lowest rate among the 25 cities is in San Francisco at $3.90 per month.

FOR EXACTLY THE same kind of telephone service the next lowest rate is $4.40 per month in New Orleans and Cincinnati, while the charge ranges upward in other cities to a high of $6.20.

San Francisco's gas rate is lower than that in Los Angeles but the southern city, with municipally-operated electric service which is exempt from income taxes and pays other taxes only on property outside the city, has a lower charge for electric energy.

Supervisors Bow to Pressure In Final Air Pollution Rules

The Board of Supervisors bowed this week to pressure by industrial interests seeking to incorporate in the rules and regulations of the county air pollution control district a provision giving them the option of obtaining a permit to operate an industry either before or after they obtain a permit for construction of an industrial plant.

As presented by Air Pollution Control Engineer Clifton Seymour, the regulations require that a permit be obtained for authority to construct, and following construction a permit to operate be applied for and granted if construction has been inspected and approved.

SEYMOUR CONCEDED agreement to a single permit to construct and operate which would be construed as a temporary permit to operate subject to final approval under actual operating conditions, but opposed the proposed option provision.

Don Stevning, chairman of an agricultural committee which has studied the proposed rules and regulations, said the committee supports the single permit to construct and operate as proposed by Seymour but reached no conclusion as to whether the operation approval should precede or follow the permit.

HE SAID HE personally believes the approval to operate should follow construction but he added, "There may be some merit in getting it before rather than after."

A proposal by Arthur Shelton, representative of Kaiser Steel's Eagle Mountain ore mine, that the eastern part of the county be excluded from compliance with the rules and regulations of the district, won approval of the supervisors.

OTHER CHANGES which the supervisors asked county counsel to write into the rules and regulations are higher but undetermined permit fees, orchard heater control to remain in the hands of the county agricultural department by contract with the air pollution control department, and allowance of three years for existing industry to conform to the rules and regulations.

THE PROPOSED eastern section of the county which would of necessity remain a part of the district but would be excluded from compliance with rules and regulations, would follow a natural boundary created by the Eagle and Chuckawalla mountains west of Desert Center.

County Counsel Ray Sullivan said he will give consideration to inclusion of a requirement for registration, in place of permits, in the eastern area in order to compile information which might be valuable in future years.

New $250,000 Resort Project Started Here

Construction of a new, $250,000 Palm Springs resort apartment building was started this week by Tom Tedesco, prominent Southgate developer.

Tedesco, president of the United Ready Mix Concrete Company, is building the luxurious apartment project on a block of land at Chino Canyon Road, Via Norte and Santa Elena.

Incorporating the latest type of built-in features, the apartments boast refrigerated air conditioning, a new type of heating unit and many other luxury features.

Village Realtor Peter B. Sheptenko represented both purchaser and seller in the transaction of land for the apartment project.

Safety Tips in Home Given By National Safety Council

The pattern is usually pretty much the same:

The time — July or December. The place — the home. Or, more specifically, the bedroom. The victim — someone 65 years of age or older.

Yes, that's usually the story of home deaths from falls, which take about 14,000 lives annually and rank second only to traffic as an accidental killer.

NATIONAL SAFETY Council statistics show that about three out of four persons killed in falls are 65 or older, and that more than three out of four falls occur in the home. More falls occur in July and December than any other time of the year.

Of the fatal falls occurring inside the house, more than half happen in the bedroom. Next most dangerous spots? The living-dining room, kitchen, stairs and bathroom, in that order.

WHY IS THE bedroom such a boobytrap?

For many reasons, the Council says. One of the most important, of course, is the time spent there by young children and older people, some of them infirm or ill. Also, bedrooms are most often used during dark hours, and lighting isn't always what it should be. Another reason people fall so often in bedrooms is because of the throw rug—a lethal weapon if unanchored.

"THE IDEAL SPOT for a throw rug is right beside the bed—if you want an accident," the Council says.

A handy bed lamp will help cut down on the night-time toll from falls, too, the Council advises.

"Not A Thing To Wear" Can Mean Unhappiness

WHEN a woman with an extensive wardrobe says she hasn't a thing to wear, and keeps on buying more, she may be discontented with life in general as well as her wardrobe, psychologists say. Every new outfit to her may represent turning a new leaf.

BUT if you'd like to turn over a new occupational leaf, Classified ads lead you to a better position or to a business of your own! Call FA 5-5005 for a helpful advertiser.

CUSTOM BUILT HOME
IN TOP LOCATION

RARE OPPORTUNITY

THIS FINE 4 bedroom, 4 bath home was built to owner's specifications with only the finest quality material being used. There is extra heavy insulation, the best ceramic tile, silent electric control switches and more than adequate outlets in each room, safety glass in showers, 2 large water heaters, extra large cess pool and septic tank, 2 ton Carrier refrigeration, extra amount of closet and storage space, beautifully designed 70x39 pool in south patio, vinyl floor covering in kitchen, baths and family room, and all wall to wall carpeting in living room and bedrooms.

UNFORTUNATELY an illness prevents owners from living here. Carpets, draperies and built-in appliances which include an oversize Westinghouse refrigerator will be left in the house.

TODAY'S SPORT PARADE

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International

NEW YORK — (UP) — Fraley's Follies and the first edition of the weekend football "winners"—plus a few reflections on sports in general.

Game Of The Week

UCLA over Pitt: Pitt has been building and this should provide a barometer on the calibre of East-West football. Just to sound like an expert, from here it looks as if line inexperience will stop the Panthers in a close one.

The East

Boston College over Scranton: Pigeon racing leaves me cold. Villanova over West Chester: In boxing it would be a mismatch. Massachusetts over Maine: I liked those old time racoon coats. Connecticut over Springfield: Bagpipe music really sends me.

The South

Duke over South Carolina: Sonja Henie was the best skater I ever saw. Florida over Tulane: Weak ankles never made a good hockey player.

Georgia Tech over Kentucky: It's surprising more spectators aren't injured at golf matches. Mayland over Wake Forest: The turtle by a hair.

North Carolina over North Carolina State: First chapter of "Jim Tatum's Revenge."

Also: Clemson over Virginia, West Virginia over Richmond, Mississippi over Memphis State, Florida State over Furman, Citadel over Newberry, VMI over Morehead and West Texas State over VPI.

The Midwest

TCU over Kansas: Women weight lifters are poor dishwashing risks.

Penn State over Nebraska: Ben Hur couldn't have carried Eddie Arcaro's bat.

Missouri over Vanderbilt: I'm gonna bring back spats for covering football games.

Kansas State over Wyoming: Lew Burdette still looks like a World Series winner to me.

Also: Marquette over South Dakota State, Iowa State over Drake, Detroit over George Washington, Cincinnati over Dayton and Bowling Green over Wichita.

The West

Southern Cal over Oregon State: The blueplate special.

California over COP: After all, it's your money.

Washington State over Stanford: Surfboarding is liquid roulette if you can't swim.

Oregon over Idaho: Like Columbia over the Sceptre.

Also: Washington over San Jose State, Oklahoma State over Denver, Arizona over Utah State and Utah over Montana.

The Southwest

Arkansas over Baylor: I give up on Sam Snead winning the Open.

Texas over Georgia: No baseball game is complete if I don't eat two sacks of peanuts.

LSU over Rice: College football players should get paid a decent salary.

Also: Texas Aggies over Texas Tech, Hardin Simmons over Tulsa and Texas Western over North Texas State.

Oregon State Favored by 9

Meets USC In First Grid Game Tonight

Beavers Are Favored to Win Championship

LOS ANGELES (UP) —Power-packed Oregon State, the choice of the nation's pigskin pickers for the Pacific Coast Conference championship, gets its first test of the season tonight from University of Southern California.

Don Clark, opening his second season as head coach, will send a squad liberally sprinkled with sophomores against coach Tommy Prothro's Beavers.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA football fans will see the McKeever twins, Mike and Marlin, tackle Dan Ficca and halfback Jerry Trynham making their varsity debut.

With a comparatively "modest" backfield Clark was expected to call on the passing of Willie Wood to a good group of ends headed by Hillard Hill in an attempt to equalize the situation through the air.

OREGON STATE frankly admits this year's squad, despite the loss of Joe Francis, is stronger than last year's team which tied Oregon for the conference championship. In fact, Prothro named sophomore Grimm Mason to start at tailback in place of the veteran Paul Lowe and named John Horillo at wingback instead of the speedy Earnel Durden.

Oregon State was favored by at least nine points to get its season off to a successful start and give the Beavers their first win against Southern Cal in Memorial Coliseum since 1935.

OREGON STATE is the first of three outstanding teams facing the Trojans on their rugged schedule which sends them against Michigan next week and North Carolina the following week.

The Trojans had counted on Citadel transfer Angelo Coia to give them speed in the backfield but Coia suffered a pulled ligament in practice that has been slow healing and Bob Arnett, brother of the brilliant Jon Arnett, has replaced him.

The loss to Flanagan stalled Akins' bid for a bout with ex-welterweight and middleweight champion Carmen Basilio in the near future.

FLANAGAN TOOK charge of his ex-stablemate and sparring partner from the opening bell. He scored almost at will with a stiff left jab that halted Akins' attack before it began. Flanagan also landed heavily with combinations to the head and body in the later rounds and had Akins lunging weakly when the final bell sounded.

The two judges and referee awarded the fight to the St. Paul boy by scores of 98-93, 97-93, and 99-92.

NEITHER FIGHTER was knocked down or in serious trouble, but Flanagan re-opened a cut near Akins' left eye which had been injured in his last fight with Tombstone Smith. Akins entered the ring at 149½ pounds and Flanagan at 148.

Flanagan has never ranked higher than fifth among the welterweights despite the fact he has beaten four champions or ex-champions in the course of 109 fights.

Two 18-hole rounds are scheduled today. When the sun goes down, only four men will be left of the 64 who made the qualifying bracket Tuesday. Smith and Butler are in the same bracket. If they win their first matches this morning, they will tangle in the afternoon.

Thursday, the defending champion smashed Veteran Gene Andrews, Pacific Palisades, 5-4, with another sub-par round. Morgan moved ahead with a 2-1 win over another -oldtimer, Tom Draper, Birmingham, Mich., and Butler vanquished 55-year-old Johnny Dawson, of Eldorado, on the 21st hole with a 13-foot birdie putt.

The 10-rounder between the two New Yorkers will be televised and broadcast nationally.

Busso won a split decision over Ortiz at the Garden June 27. After that first defeat of his career, Carlos charged angrily. "It was the referee — not Busso — who was responsible."

NEW YORK — (UP) — Light-weight contenders Johnny Busso and Carlos Ortiz will settle their "third-man" dispute tonight in a return TV fight at Madison Square Garden.

NEW YORK — (UP) — Eddie Arcaro will learn today whether he has recovered sufficiently from a recent leg infection to ride unbeaten First Landing in the $100,000 Futurity Stakes at Belmont Park Saturday.

Arcaro, sidelined the past week, planned to test the leg by riding in at least two races on today's card. If he isn't fit, Bill Boland probably will get the mount on First Landing in the Futurity.

Welterweight Champ Upset, But Title Not at Stake

ST. PAUL, Minn. — (UP) — Del Flanagan, a veteran with an accurate left hand, upset the big-money plans of world welterweight champion Virgil Akins Thursday night by scoring a unanimous win in a 10-round, non-title bout.

Braves Can Clinch NL Flag Tonight

Win Over Reds, Loss by Pirates Would Do It

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press International

The Braves can wrap up the whole box of biscuits tonight.

All they need is a victory over the Redlegs plus an accompanying triumph by the Phillies over the second-place Pirate to clinch their second straight National League pennant.

THE BRAVES, who had to wait until Sept. 29 to win last year, will send rookie Carlton Willey against Cincinnati tonight and if he doesn't get the job done, they've got Lew Burdette and Warren Spahn ready to go against the Redlegs during the weekend. The still-hopeful Pirates got the official go-ahead from Commissioner Ford Frick to order printing plates for World Series tickets Thursday, but the Braves made it a rather empty gesture by beating the Cardinals, 9-3, Thursday night.

BIG BOB RUSH posted the victory that reduced the Braves' magic number to "two" and increased their lead over the Pirates to six games. Milwaukee and Pittsburgh each have seven games to play.

Red Schoendienst paced Milwaukee's 13-hit attack with three doubles and a single while Johnny Logan and Andy Pafko contributed homers. Pafko hit his with two on in the ninth off reliever Nels Chittum.

That was the only game scheduled in the National League. Only two were played in the American League, with the White Sox beating the Orioles, 6-2, and the Athletics defeating the Red Sox, 4-1.

INDIANS SHOW PROMISE, BUT WORK REMAINS TO BE DONE

By FRED C. WEIGEL

Palm Springs High School football team, now in its final week of workouts preparatory to meeting Calexico next Friday in the first of two pre-RCL games, is proving to have two big attributes for the coming grid season—speed and precision.

Closer teamwork than has ever before been exhibited by the local Indian varsity squad, challenges the "old timers" on the team to do an even better job than they did last year.

AS COACH CLARE Ballagh changed from evening to afternoon practices for the team, the Indians' top eleven began to show weaknesses under the afternoon sun. Tiring faster and working out with more difficulty than the evening scrimmage showed, the individual weakness of each player is more apparent.

Although Palm Springs lost some valuable players last year by graduation, other "veterans of the gridiron" are making up the nucleus of the varsity team. Players like David Sing, Gary Easton, LeRoy Segundo, Bill Hecht, Jim Garland, Weston Naef, Joe Lewis and Rod Johnson are scheduled to go on the field in the game next Friday, backed by some of the varsity's most promising newcomers, Bill Smith, Harry Karuzich, Tony Gomez, Bill Ivy and Cleo Jones.

IVY SEEMS to be the big passing potential for the Indians, with Ends Smith and Sing picking them out of the air. Naef and Jim Bratten are going to split the job as center during the four quarters, and Jones is scheduled in the fullback position in the first game.

Now that the starters are picked...

for the first game, Coaches Ballagh, Jim Workman and Don Smith are trying to clean up what they have termed "some very poor executions of passing and running plays."

THE COACHES HAVE worked out some 10 running plays including "handoffs," "laterals," and "line drives," plus six or seven passing plays which they hope will stop their traditional rivals—the Coachella Arabs—on Oct. 31.
